

NEWBORN BEHAVIORAL OBSERVATIONS (NBO) SYSTEM

Education & Training for Professionals

the women's the royal women's hospital
victoria australia

Monday 10th & Tuesday 11th February 2020

Venue: Royal Women's Hospital, 20 Flemington Road, Parkville

Strongly Recommended Reading:

“Understanding Newborn Behaviour and Early Relationships:
The Newborn Behavioural Observations (NBO) System Handbook”

By K. Nugent et al, Brookes: Baltimore, pg 51-130

Monday 10 February 2020, 3.00pm– 7.00pm

- 15:00 - 15:15 Registration and questionnaire at the venue
- 15:15 - 15:45 Introduction to the NBO practitioner training program
- 15:45 - 16:30 Foundations of the NBO as a relationship building tool for parents and their babies
- 16:30 - 17:15 Watching the baby: refining your observational skills
- 17:15 - 17:30 Break
- 17:30 - 18:15 The NBO step-by-step 1: Video demonstration
- 18:15 - 19:00 ‘Take-home’ concepts, homework and planning for Day Two

Tuesday 11 February 2020, 9:00am – 5:00pm

- 09:00 - 09:15 Introduction and aims for the workshop
- 09:15 - 09:45 Small group work including review of homework
- 09:45 - 10:30 The NBO step-by-step 2: Introducing and recording the NBO and providing anticipatory guidance
- 10:30 - 11:00 Administering the NBO (practice with dolls)
- 11:00 - 11:15 Break
- 11:15 - 12:00 Using the NBO to build relationships: in families and with families
- 12:00 - 12:30 Using the NBO with families from different cultural communities
- 12:30 - 13:30 Lunch
- 13:30 - 14:30 Role-play with dolls and complete NBO video
- 14:30 - 15:15 Working with at-risk infants and their families
- 15:15 - 15:30 Break
- 15:30 - 16:30 Live demonstration of NBO and discussion
- 16:30 - 17:00 Wrap up: steps to certification, post-training questionnaires

For more information email: nboaustralia@thewomens.org.au